

Proposed ER Diagram for Bank 'A'

Assumptions

- Interest rates for loans are calculated when customer applies for a loan. The exact amount of the interest rate is decided by the employee based on customer's assests, liabilities and loan period. The interest rate can't be directly derived by the load type. Human interference is needed.